Welcome

Graystone Consulting consists of a select group of highly qualified, experienced institutional consulting teams located across North America. Each team is led by Institutional Consulting Directors who possess an average of more than 20 years of investment experience (as of June 2009).

Currently, Graystone Consulting provides stewardship to more than $90 billion in institutional consulting assets (as of December 2008). We also have access to one of the nation's largest staff of research analysts, presently approximately 60, who review and evaluate nearly 1,300 traditional investment strategies each quarter (as of June 2009). We have proven experience with a diverse range of sophisticated institutional clients and are empowered to make customized investment and research recommendations.

At Graystone Consulting, our mission is clear: to help set the industry standard in investment consulting services by helping sophisticated investors develop prudent strategies. Our business continues a long legacy of delivering objective advice. In fact, over three decades ago, our sister organization, Consulting Group, launched one of the first managed money platforms in the nation. Today, Consulting Group is consistently ranked as one of the nation's leading providers of managed money services (Cerulli Associates, March 2009).
